CAUSE CELEBRE APPEAL

PRIVY COUNCIL DECISION

SUNG MAN-CHO WINS MAIN POINT

The appeals to the Privy Council on behalf of Sung Mancho, the alleged Annamite revolutionist, against the banishment order made last year by the Governor (H.E. William Peel) and upheld on a habeas corpus application, was withdrawn after one day's hearing on terms mutually agreed upon by counsel.

The effect of the agreement is that Sung's banishment order remains good, but he is free to proceed to any place he chooses outside of Hongkong.

The appeal was opened before the Privy Conneil on June 27. On the, rollowing day it was announced that an agreement had been reached between the parties, and upon certain terms, the appeal was withdrawn.

So far only telegraphic communication of the result has been received in Hongköng, and fuller details ard lacking.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

The most difficult thing for the player taking up contract to master is the tables of valuation. The valuation tables for this system are made as simple as possible. The official system of valuation is confined to:

(a) High-eard tricks (b) Low-eard tricks.

Contract bridge is primarily a game of OFFENCE, hence the official system will value all honour cards with respect to their trick-taking potentialities when played offensively. It is a fact, however, that all high-card combinations used in this system contain the necessary DEFENSIVE values to justify making all opening bids. Below is given the table of higheard tricks:

KQJ

 $\begin{bmatrix} \mathbf{K} & \mathbf{X} & 1 \\ \mathbf{Q}, \mathbf{J}, \mathbf{X} & 1 \end{bmatrix}, \dots, \frac{1}{2}$

This table is to be used for valuing the high-eard fricks in the bidding hand. Slightly increased values will be added to three or four of these combinations in estimating the values of high eards when held in the supporting hand, as well as in the bidding hand, should it be advisable for the original bidder to RE-

When a player estimates the trick-taking ability of his hand, he should calculate the value of high-eard, tricks, as given above. and add to this total the value of all LOW-CARD TRICKS.

The total of HIGH-CARD and LOW-CARD TRICKS equals the number of PROBABLE TRICKS contained in the hand. Low-card tricks are valued as follows: Count each, card in the BID SUIT in EXCESS of THREE, as one low-card trick.

Count each card in a side suit in EXCESS of THREE, as worth one trick, provided the suit contains at least five cards, and further provided the side suit and the bid suit are both strong in honour cards.

Probable tricks are the back-Done of the official system. There are exactly 13 tricks to be -won, and if a player and his partner lare able to estimate accurately the number that can be, won, i played as declarer and dummy, 99 per cent, of their troubles are over. The hands given below show the manner in which a player contemplating making an original bid should value his holdings: (1)

QUANTITY

QUALITY

WAKEFIELD CASTROL MOTOR OIL gives you both the correct quantity and quality. It is sold by the Imperial Gallon of approx. 9 lbs. which is the legal measure in the Colony and the innumerable achievements standing to the credit of this aristocratic lubricant are sufficient evidence of its incomparable quality. There are no inferior or alternative grades of Castrol motor oils. Britain's records on land sea and in the air were all made on Castrol and the oil we sell here is exactly the same as used on these occasions.

LOOKING BACK

In connexion with Mr. Champkin's plea at yesterday's meeting of the Sanitary Board for the preservation of the right of the public: to make itself heard on health problems, it is worth while to recall some interesting developments which occurred nearly forty years ago when the reconstruction of dresses. Mrs. Baldwin threw open of the matter, it needs stating that, a year or so previously, a petition had been sent Home to the House of Commons, by residents of the Colony. The de- Patriotism, in other words, has mands put forward included a majority of elected representatives on the Legislative Council, complete control in Council over local expenditure, the management of local affairs, and a consultative voice in questions of an Imperial character. Incidentally, it may be mentioned that the Marquist of Ripon, who was then the Secretary of State, whilst not conceding the full demands, put forward certain ideas as being worthy of consideration, one of these being the creation of a Municipal Council. Shortly afterwards, however, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain succeeded Lord Ripon and he expressed himself against the suggested Municipal Council, arguing that it would be difficult to draw the line be- dresses, then the women of Hongtween Colonial and Municipal

It was whilst these matters were under discussion that the question of reconstructing the Sanitary Board arose. Sir William Robinson was Governor at of London together, and to correthat time, and he prepared a draft; late their work with that of the Bill constituting a Board of three official and two unofficial members. This favourable moment when fair the latter to be elected by the ratepayers. Mr. Chamberlain approved of this Bill, but some few months later, Sir William Robinson advised him that the measure did not appear to be acceptable to the British community, and that accordingly he had taken a plebiscite on the question as to whether the Board should have an official or an unofficial majority. The result was that 331 voted for in English feet on the dates named in the West. North and East Rivers: an unofficial majority and 31 against. This result apparently so upset the Governor that he advised.Mr. Chamberlain of his (Sir William's) view that he favoured Samehul 127.8

ly under Government control and managed entirely by a Department responsible to the Governor. The upshot of it all was that Mr. Chamberlain declined to take any steps whatever towards reconstituting the Board, holding that it would be far better for the matter to be considered by the next Governor, who would be able to approach the Issues de novo. Sir William Robinson, however, was rapped over the knuckles for Station awaiting a claimant: having taken a plebiscite amongst the British community. He was frankly told by the Secretary of State that "it is inconsistent with Crown Colony government to seek the guidance of a plebiscite; and in no community whatever, whether Crown Colony or not, can a satisfactory solution of a question, in which the whole body of the ratepayers and many outside that body are interested, be induced from an expression of the opinions of one section alone." Much later, of course, the Sanitary Board was put on a better footing, with a large element of unofficials admitted. The value of the sergices of these unofficial members has again and again been attested. and it is well that their rights as representatives of the public should be safeguarded.

So thoroughly was I made at home that in no time I forgot the world-wide fame of the man entertaining me. All the time Epstein talked vivaciously, evincing a strong sense of humour and a rich store of knowledge on all topical subjects.

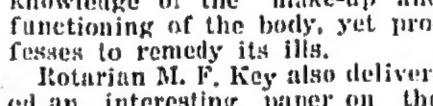

But one thing I particularly noticed was his reluctance to talk either about his art or himself. It seemed as though art and life were two separate things in his make-up.

Five Star Comics in New Film

Five nationally known players vie for comedy honours in Radio Pictures' "Leathernecking" which will open tomorrow at the Queen's Theatre. They are Eddie Foy, Jr., Benny Rubin, Ned Sparks, Ken Murray and

Louise Fazenda. Foy and Muriay are elever vandeville and musical comedy stars; the latter was on the Orpheum circuit eight years, the other just stepped out of a Fred Stone show, "Ripples," Benny Rubin, remembered for his

"One Hour with You"

The black-and-white polka-dot tie worn by Maurice Chevalier is the focal key-note used by the many cinematographers who filmed his new Dicture, "One Hour With You." This was revealed recently by Victor Milner, photographer of the Paramount picture, who states that Chevalier's favourite cravat simplified the cameraman's focusing problems. In photography, there is always the search for what is known as a solit focus," Milner explains. In a player's face, for instance, we must carry in focus all parts from the tip of the nose to the ear. The aplit-focus is half-way between so that all is sharp. The best item on which to focus is the necktie because this assures a photographer that the eyes are clear and that the central fecus has been attained. The polkudot tie is one of Chevalier's individualities and meets with hearty approval on the part of cameremen. When the dots of his tie are sharp in closephotography will be perfect as far as focus is concerned. A tie with

SUTCLIFFE'S 8th CENTURY

London, Aug. 2 THE bold challenge being made by Sussex for leadership of the county cricket league is being just as boldly met by Yorkshire who occupy top position at the present, and they have added another decisive victory of an innings to the season's record to enable them to keep well ahead of their rivals.

Meeting Lancashire at Manchester they fairly outplayed their neighbours, Sutcliffe scoring his eighth century of the season and Verity adding to his splendid bowling record.

GERMANY'S CLAIM TO OLYMPICS

Next International Meeting May be in Berlin

Before the tenth Olympiad has this year, the International Olymthe site and tentative date of the meeting of this group, representing more than 50 nations will take place in Los Angeles during the festivities. Judging from the number of applicants from all over the world, it would seem almost as though the present generation would not again witness an Olympiad in America. In there are those who think that the games should always be held in Europe, and the long journey to Los Angeles will undoubtedly make up the minds of the majority of European nations to that effect,

It seems almost certain that the games will be held in Berlin in 1936. Germany was to have held this meeting in 1916, but was prevented from conducting the games because of the war. The V. W. C. Medical Officers.

It seems that I have dwelt somewhat lengthily on this subject of the re-organisation of the Medical and Sanitary Services, but I feel it incumbent upon me as an elected member of this Board, and medical man at that, that I should lavail myself of this opportunity in presenting to you, for the consi-Ideration of the Government, cer-I tain suggestions which the D. M. S. S. may find useful to incorporate in his plans, when the time arrives for their materialisation.

bi conclusion I wish to say that the policy of re-organising the Medical and Sanitary Services, is, generally speaking, sound, and deserves the serious consideration of the Government.

Dr. Li's Endorsement,

Dr. Li Shu-fan said: 2 As a member of this Board representing the public including the Medical profession, I feel that it is fitting that I should make a few remarks upon the recommendations so ably worked out and submitted by the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services.

I heartily welcome the scheme of reform advocated-a reform which I think is long overdue.

I believe that when the scheme is appropriately carried ont it will do much in obviating the duplication of personnel, machinery and equipment, with consequent all round improvement in service and curtailment of expenditure.

I think my colleagues agree with Hiye Maru Tuesday, 30th August. me that the part of the recommendations dealing with the readjustment of the various ordinances are essentially sound. It should merit the support of the Board and the adoption by Govern-

As regards the recommendations under subhending "The Medical or Curative Branch? it appears to me that there is a rather complete provision of officers both in number and in qualification. But in view of the continual prevalence and the excessive mortality of tuberculosis in this Colony I think it is imperative that one or more tuberculosis officers be provided.

Necessity for Economy.

Owing to the necessity for economy, co-operation and complete understanding in a scheme of this magnitude, I deem it advisable to take into consideration the ser-Clinical professors, viz. the professors of Medicine, surgery, and obstetries. I believe the inclusion of these professors would entirely obviate the appointment of a separate set of specialists such as "a senior physician, a senior sirkeun, a senior obstetrician" advocated in the recommendations. I need hardly emphasise that the professors mentioned are highly qualified specialists and that they having been for sometime rendering valued and highly appreciated public services. I understand that at present more than half of the work in the Government Civil Hospital is being conducted by the Clinical professors and their staff at a tremendous saving of expenditure to the Government. I have reasons to believe that their work was conscientious and above reproach. Furthermore, I understand there is an agreement between the Government and the Rockefeller Foundation whereby the Clinical professors are compelled to remain at the Government Civil Hospital. As a matter of fact the annual donation from the Foundation was a source of substantial and continual help both to the University the Government. Besides, apart from the G. C. H. therd'is no other Clinical teaching centre for the medical students. Hence I mention that if it is for no other reason, than that of upholding the privilege and duty of Hongkong, as being the beacon-light of education, especially in medicine, in this part of the world, we are honourbound to give serious consideration to the University and its students.

this policy of reform into effect. I support the motion.

Mr. M. K. Lo's Comments.

Mr. M. K. Lo said:

My colleagues have already dealt with the various aspects of the D.M.S.S.'a recommendational so fully that I feel it is unnecessary for me to make any lengthy remarks on the motion now before the Board. I should, however, like to deal with paragraph 2 of the motion in so far as it refers to the Vice-Chairmanship of the proposed Public Health Board.

It will be seen that the unanimous view of the unofficial members is that the Constitution of the Sanitary Board be enlarged in order that it may function as a Public Health Board with the personnel auggested by the D.M.S.S. for his Public Health Advisory Board, except that the Vice-Chairman shall be a non-technical man, preferably the Secretary for Chinese Affaire.

In view of certain newspaper comments on the D.M.S.S.'s recommendations I should like to state publicly my own reasons for concurring in the terms of clause 2 of the motion. To begin with, say at once that my reasons have nothing whatever to do with "the old question of 'Chinese susceptibilities'" as one paper has put it. The fact that this motion represents the unanimous view of all the unofficial members, including three who are not Chinese, is at least suggestive that the raison detre of clause 2 of the motion must be something else.

The Buffer Question, 🕠

In regard to this matter, the D.M.S.S. observes, "In Hongkong! because of the desire of certain Chinese to have a buffer interposed between them and the professional hyglenist it is recommended that until public opinion is more educated on matters of Hygiene and Sanitation the post of 'Head of the Sanitary Departs'

ment' shall be held by a Cadet Officer who is a Chinese scholar." I say frankly that I do not share this desire, and that it has nothing to do with the reasons for my concurring in clause 2 of the mo-

BRILLIANT FEATS AT OLYMPICS

FIRST BRITISH VICTORY

800 METERS

Los Angeles, Aug. 2. Britain obtained her first success in the Olympic Games today when T. Hampson, generally below. recognised as the world's finest runner at the distance, won the 800 Metres.

Hampson won brilliantly, creating a world's record of T min. 49 8/10ths seconds. He was challenged at the finish by Wilson, the Canadian athlete, who also ran a splendid race, but Hampson beat him by inches in the most thrill-I ing event of the meeting.

Britain also obtained two places in the final for the 100 Metres Hurdles. In the first semi-final, Lord Burghley occupied second place to Keller (U. S. A.) who beat the Olympic record in beating Burghley, and in the second, the world record was broken by Saling (U S. A.). The final should provide a rare struggle. The first three ' in each semi-final have qualified for the final.

Stella Walsh, of Poland won the women's hundred metres. 1 Miss Hiscock (Britain) being fourth.

It is interesting to note in connexion with Hampson's brilliant victory, that Britain has won the 880 Metres race in each of the last four Olympics.

LIU BEATEN.

nese competitor, failed to qualify -for the two hundred metres final, after a terrific race. Liu ran strongly for three-quarters of the distance, but he was overhauled by Wright (Canada), Metealfe (United States) and Black (New Zealand).

Liu struggled hard to beat Black out of third place, but failed by inches. Results:-

CONTRACT BRIDGE:

By W. E. McKenney

The most difficult thing for the player taking up contract to master is the tables of valuation. The valuation tables for this system are made as simple as possible. The official system of valuation is confined to:

> (a) High-card tricks . (b) Low-card tricks.

Contract bridge is primarily game of OFFENCE, hence the official system will value all honour cards with respect to their tricktaking potentialities ,when played offensively. It is a fact, however, that all high-card combinations necessary DEFENSIVE values to justify making all opening bids card tricks:

Table of High-Card Tricks

A R Q 3 A Q AKJ2½ KQ 10 | 7 2 K Q KJ 10 F

. This table is to be used for valuing the high-eard tricks in the bidding hand. Slightly increased values will be added to three or four of these combinations in estimating the values of high cards when held in the supporting hand, as well as in the bidding hand, should it be advisable for the original bidder to RE-

When a player estimates the trick-taking ability of his hand, he should calculate the value of high-card tricks, as given above, and add to this total the value of all LOW-CARD TRICKS. The total of HIGH-CARD and

LOW-CARD TRICKS equals the number of PROBABLE TRICKS contained in the hand. Low-eard tricks are valued as follows: Count each card in the BID SUIT in EXCESS of THREE, as one low-eard trick. Count each card in a side suit in EXCESS of THREE, as worth one trick, provided the suit contains at least five cards, and further provided the kide suit and the bid suit are both strong in l bonour cards.

Probable tricks; are the backbone of the official system. There are exactly 13 tricks to be won, and if a player and his partner are able to estimate accurately The number that can be won, if played as declarer and dummy, 199 per cent, of their troubles, are over. The hands given below show the manner in which a player contemplating making an original bid should value his holdings: A (10)

WAKEFIELD CASTROL MOTOR OIL gives you both the correct quantity and quality. It is sold by the Imperial Gallon of approx. 9 lbs. which is the legal measure in the Colony and the innumerable achievements standing to the credit of this aristocratic lubricant are sufficient evidence of its incomparable quality. There are no inferior or alternative grades of Castrol motor oils. Britain's records on land sea and/in the air were all made on Castrol and the oil we sell here is exactly the same as used on these occasions.

LOOKING BACK

In connexion with Mr. Champkin's plea at yesterday's meeting of the Sanitary Board for the preservation of the right of the public to make itself heard on health problems, it is worth while to recall some interesting developments which occurred nearly forty years ago when the reconstruction of the Board was under consideration. To gain a full appreciation of the matter, it needs stating that, a year or so previously, a petition had been sent Home to the House of Commons, by residents of the Colony. . The de-1 mands put forward included a majority of elected representatives on the Legislative Council, complete control in Council over local expenditure, the management of local affairs, and a consultative voice in questions of an Imperial character. Incidentally, it may be mentioned that the Marquist of Ripon, who was then the Secretary of State, whilst not conceding the full demands, put forward certain ideas as being worthy of consideration, one of these being the Shortly afterwards, however, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain succeeded Lord Ripon and he expressed himself against the suggested Municipal Council, arguing that it would be difficult to draw the line between Colonial and Municipal matters.

It was whilst these matters were under discussion that the question of reconstructing the Sanitary Board arose. Sir Wil-Bill constituting a Board of three makers of silk and woollen fabrics, official and two unofficial members, the latter to be elected by the ratepayers. Mr. Chamberlain approved of this Bill, but some few the magicians of Paris. months later, Sir William Robinson advised him that the measure did not appear to be acceptable to the British community, and that accordingly he had taken a plebiscite on the question as to whether the Board should have an official or an unofficial majority. an unofficial majority and 31 against. This result apparently so upset the Governor that he advised Mr. Chamberlain of his (Sir William's) view that he favoured Samshut ... +27.3 -8.8 eanitary affairs being placed direct. ly under Government control and managed entirely by a Department responsible to the Governor. The upshot of it all was that Mr. Chamberlain declined to take any steps whatever towards reconstituting the Board, holding that it would be far better for the matter to be considered by the next Governor, who would be able to approach the issues de novo. Sir William Robinson, however, was rapped over the knuckles for having taken a plobiscite amongst the British community. He was frankly told by the Secretary of State that "it is inconsistent with Crown Colony government to seek the guidance of a plebiscite; and in no community whatever, whether Crown Colony or not, can a satisfactory solution of a question, in which the whole body of the ratepayers and many outside that body are interested, be induced from an expression of the Board was put on a better footing, with a large element of unofficials admitted. The value of the services of these unofficial members has again and again been attested. and it is well that their rights as representatives of the public should be safeguarded,

Can London Lead the Ladies?

The laws which govern women's dress are mysterious, and the sultans of style who issue their decrees to the world have long had. their divan in Paris. Rebel movements have from time to time been started, it is true, and rival claimants have occasionally appeared in London, in New York. and even Shanghai. But always, in the long run, Paris has won, and dressmakers have turned to the French houses for their models. But will it always be so? In London at the present moment a more determined effort is being made than ever before, not perhaps to wrest the palm from Paris, but at least to share it with her. The royal family is interesting itself in the movement. Debutantes at court this year were expected to wear all-English dresses. Mrs. Baldwin threw open her drawing-room in Downing Street to displays of British silks. Special dress shows were organizlish dressmakers have co-operated cal practitioner of to-day. in holding fashion parades, ! Patriotism, in other words, has. been called in to redress the balance of exotic taste. But it will succeed only if the dressmakers are able to produce the goods; for patriotism and dowdiness do not go well together. There are two secrets in the success which Paris has hitherto enjoyed. One is the innate taste of the Parisian designer; the other lies in the practice of cooperation. In France the manufacturers of fabrics have always been in direct touch with those who make up materials and design dresses; and the latter have been creation of a Municipal Council. in touch with one another. The art of designing fabrics has been co-ordinated with the art of designing dresses. The whole dress trade is controlled by a group, and if the group adds twelve inches to the length of Paris dresses, then the women of Hongkong, of Cape Town and of Melbourne sooner or later add twelve inches to the length of theirs. The style engineers who are now operating in London are aware of this, and are making heroic efforts to bring the leading dressmakers liam Robinson was Governor at of London together, and to correthat time, and he prepared a draft | late their work with that of the This favourable moment when fair

Instead of a terribly temperamental being, there was a man whose gifts as a host could not be bettered. Instead of the anticipated exhibition of artistic "nerves," I was treated to an exhibition of old-world courtesy and kindness.

So thoroughly was I made at home that in no time I forgot the world-wide fame of the man entertaining me. 'All the time Epstein talked vivaciously, evincing atrong sense of humour and a rich store of knowledge on all topical subjects.

But one thing I particularly noticed was his reluctance to talk either about his art or himself. It seemed as though art and life were two separate things in his make-up.

A Devoted Father.

I glimpsed another sidelight to this remarkable man's character through observing his attitude towards his little daughter, Peggy Jean, whose long blonde locks reminded me at once of Alice in Wonderland. Both in look and in faction I have never seen a father so devoted to his daughter.

They then proceeded along the coast between Stonecutters Island and Quarantine Island. Across the western entrance, of the harbour be noticed a river steamer cominy down from east to west. He could see both the starboard , and mast headlights of the river steamer. The order of the two was the same as before, the Henry Keswick in front and the Edith alongside. He did not know the course or the speed of the Henry Keswick.

The river steamer at first appeared as if she were going to cross the Henry Keswick's bow, Then she appeared as if she was going to pass through the Henry Keswick and the bow of the Hirundo. Later it appeared as it she were going to strike the Hirundo. The Captain of the Hirundo then called to witness saying, "What the hell is the silly fool trying to do?"

But none the less I gather that he is defending the stand taken by the C. R. C. in claiming the 2 points from the S. C. A. A. A letter so incoherent deserves no answer, so instead I will endeavour passing through Hongkong for to reply to "Sportsmanship," whose outburst appeared some days back in your paper. In that letter he defined sportsmanship as being according to rules, all of which is very well, so the following article, which appeared in Illustrated Sporting & Dramatic News of July 2nd 1932, under the able pen of "A. DUAL RATIO

Dual Ratio, exclusive with Auburn and special equipment in all Custom Models gives you the equivalent of two cars in one; in the hills a most efficient hill climber; on the straight-away a smoother, quieter performance at high speeds with less wear and tear on the motor and running parts. On the boulevard or in the country with your car moving 20 to 60 M.P.H., turn the Dual Ratio lever on the instrument panel from Low Ratio to High Ratio and while your car continues at the same speed the motor speed drops down one-third of its former speed. SUTCLIFFE'S 8th CENTURY

London, Aug. Z. THE bold challenge being made by Sussex for leadership of the county cricket league is being just as boldly met by Yorkshire who occupy top position at the present, and they have added another decisive victory of an innings to the season's record to enable them to keep well ahead of their rivals.

Meeting Lancashire at Manchester they fairly outplayed their neighbours, Sutcliffe scoring his eighth century of the season and Verity adding to his splendid bowling record.

The meeting of this group, representing more than 50 nations will take place in Los Angeles during the festivities. Judging from the number of applicants from all over the world, it would seem almost as though the present generation would not again witness an Olympiad in America. In fact there are those who think that the games should always be held in Europe, and the long journey to Los Angeles will undoubtedly make up the minds of the majority of European nations to that effect.

It seems almost certain that the games will be held in Berlin in 1936. Germany was to have held this meeting in 1916, but was prevented from conducting the games because of the war. Mr. M. K. Lo's Comments.

Mr. M. K. Lo said: My colleagues have already dealt with the various aspects of the D.M.S.S.'s recommendations so fully that I feel it is unnecessary for me to make any lengthy remarks on the motion now before the Board. I should, however, tike to deal with paragraph 2 of the motion in so far as it refors to the Vice-Chairmanship of the proposed Public Health Board.

It will be seen that the unanimous view of the unofficini members in that the Constitution of the Sanitary Board be enlarged in order that it may function as a Public Health Board with the personnel auggested by the D.M.S.S. for his Public Health Advisory Board, except that the Vice-Chairman shall be a non-technical man. preferably the Secretary for Chimese Affairs.

In view of certain newspaper comments on the D.M.S.S.'s recommendations I should like to state publicly my own reasons for concurring in the terms of clause 2 of the motion. To begin with, say at once that my reasons have nothing whatever to do with "the old question of 'Chinese susceptibilities" as one paper has put it. The fact that this motion represents the unanimous view of all the unomeial members, including three who are not Chinese, is at least suggestive that the raison d'etre of clause 2 of the motion must be something else,

The Buffer Question:

In regard to this matter the D.M.S.S. observes. "In Hongkong because of the desire of certain Chinese to have a buffer interposed between them and the professional hygienist it is recommended that until public opinion is more educated on matters of Mygione and Sanitation the post of Head of the Sanitary Department' shall be held by a Cadet Officer who is a Chinese scholar." I say frankly that I do not share this desire, and that it has nothing to do with the reasons for my concurring in clause 2 of the mo-

"I do not propose to offer any comments on the resolution, nor should I vote Tor or against it, and I fancy my Official colleagues will consider it proper to adopt the same course. What I do propose is to put this motion to the meeting and to take this opportunity of offering my acknowledgment to the Unofficials for the trouble, care, t and attention that have been given to this matter. It is a matter of great importance and you are to be congratulated on arriving at a unanimous view, and I am sure your views will be of great assistance to the Government in deciding whether any further reorganisation is necessary or desir-
